The h.wood Group is a native Los Angeles lifestyle company with a robust portfolio of restaurants and upscale nightlife venues fueled by a network of influencers, celebrities and industry leaders. Since its inception, The h.wood Group has focused on providing a unique subculture for the most exclusive clientele to create long-lasting memories and incredible relationships.

The h.wood Group expanded into event production and management in 2014 due to the high demand within this subculture. The h.wood Group's Events Department exceeds client expectations by leveraging creativity and strategically planning every detail — big or small. With a variety of catering services and a collection of venues to choose from, the Events Team builds dynamic social gatherings with remarkable results. Owners John Terzian and Brian Toll have matchless connections to A-list celebrities and top influencers to boost events into some of the most sought-after evenings.

Whether providing influencer partnerships or celebrity-hosted parties, The h.wood Group always brings monumental turnout with authenticity. Offering delectable culinary options, perfectly crafted cocktails and the hottest celebrity endorsements, The h.wood Group brings eloquent professionalism and an impressive roster to every event.
